INSIGHT
EDUCATION LITERACY

The bar chart illustrates the percentage of ASEAN countries reaching above 90 percent between the year 2015 and 2016 in the aspect of Education Literacy rate

However, there were still some countries standing below 90 percent namely, Cambodia, Lao People's Democratic Republic, and Myanmar

TEACHER-STUDENT RATIO

|
Brunei Darussalam	Cambodia	Indonesia	Lao People's Democratic Republic
10.18	41.66	16.06	22.34
Malaysia	Myanmar	Thailand	Viet Nam
11.66	23.05	16.22	19.65

The teacher-student ratio in Cambodia indicates that there are 40 Students for 1 Teacher, not allowing teachers to observe all individual pupils separately.

Teacher-Student Ratio in Primary Education (2017)

STUDENT EMPOWERMENT LEARNING

1 Sending Fresh Graduates from High-Literacy rate Countries to other Countries with Low Teacher-Student Ratio

2 Sending Fresh Graduates from High-Literacy rate Countries to other Countries with High Numbers of Out of School Student

"High-Literacy Rate Countries could aid other Countries by sending them Fresh Graduates"

What did we expect?

STUDENT EMPOWERMENT LEARNING

EXPECTED RESULTS

"

Helps decrease the Teacher-Student Ratio in short but continous period of time.

in other words, broadening the kids' horizon by international means

"

EXPECTED RESULTS

"

Gives and transfers useful life skills to others.

We hope that every student (including school dropouts) will achieve good lifeskills in order to get better jobs and raise the country employment rate

"

REFERENCES

All data used in this Presentation is obtained from Unesco Institute of Statistics
http://data.uis.unesco.org/

All pictures used in this Presentation is obtained from Pexels
http://www.pexels.com/

All diagrams used in this Presentation is acquired from SAP Analytics Cloud

Special thanks to Taslia Khaira

Team Omoshiroi
Universitas Gadjah Mada
INDONESIA